

Bradford Beacon's Weekly News

Welcome to our Weekly News.

The children have been busy this week! In Sapling class, they have been singing songs to support their understanding of numbers. Sage class have been continuing their 'Bear Hunt' adventures and Willow class have been learning about important people and their jobs.

Bradford Beacon's Star

Daniel Pruteanu - Daniel has been experimenting cause and effect with different toys and tools. We love how inquisitive he is!

Our Learning

Updates from the Clinical Team.

The children from Willow class took part in a session to help the 'Colour Monster'. We helped him to sort through his feelings and decorated each monster.

We use colours to help our pupils to understand and recognise their internal feelings. Around school, there are display boards which explore the Zones of Regulation. The children are encouraged to use these, and to engage in regulating activities depending on how they feel.
